Tactical Plan

Tactical Demonstration: Five Stages

1. March to the battlefield	Separate departures from camp. West along Reservation Road, then south toward Short Hills Road.
2. Deployment of forces	Deploy near Short Hills Road. Americans loop east toward Chatterton Hill. Crown forces position separately.
3. Fighting withdrawal	Crown forces engage. Americans gradually withdraw north along Michigan Road, maintaining controlled separation.
4. Stand at Chatterton Hill	Americans reform on the hill. Crown forces form along the Michigan Road approach, with a pause before the assault.
5. Final assault and withdrawal	Controlled Crown advance. Flanking only if safely approved. Americans withdraw from the active battlefield.

Proposed sequence: final positions, routes and safety distances remain subject to review
